

WILL DIAZ GIVE UP HIS OFFICE AS PRESIDENT NOW?

CARS STILL HELD IN THE YARDS AT SAN ANTONIO TO TRANSFER TROOPS AND HORSES ACROSS THE FRONTIER IF NEEDED FOR INVASION OF MEXICO.

SOME FIGHTING REPORTED

Mexican Minister of Finance is to Be The Successor of the Present Ruler of Mexican Republic in the Statement Made Today—Later a General Election Will Be Held.

New York, March 20.—"That Big Business" has decreed that Diaz is to retire as President of Mexico, and will be succeeded by Jose Limantour, Minister of Finance, who will hold forth as provisional president until a new general election can be held, was the assertion today of Gustavo de Madrazo, a brother of the leader of the Mexican revolutionists.

Denies Abdication. Washington, March 20.—Flat denial of the report that President Diaz of Mexico will abdicate in favor of anyone was made here today by Ambassador De la Barra.

Reaches Mexico. Mexico City, March 20.—Finance Minister Limantour arrived here this morning and a great crowd greeted him at the railway station. President Diaz was not present. Limantour went direct to his suburban home.

Holding Cars. San Antonio, March 20.—With cars, for man and beast, yet being held for instant use in the San Antonio railway yards, officers of the divisions today declared they firmly believe the arrival of Jose Limantour, Mexican Minister of Finance, at Mexico City, within the next few days to confer with Diaz and bearing an ultimatum from the United States government whether or not a flying "intervention invasion" of Mexico will be made by the United States troops.

American Shot. El Paso, Tex., March 20.—H. E. O'Driscoll, an American, was shot four times by revolutionists who attacked his ranch and were refused money according to word received by friends from Terrell. In the night of Thursday at Colonia Siding, near Terrell, thirty federalists and rebels were killed.

In a light near Terrell three rebels were killed and several others wounded. The federalists also lost some men. "Dum Dum" Bullets.

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Soft nose bullets forbidden by the rules of war are being used by both sides in the Mexican campaign according to reports received here.

TAFT IS READY TO TAKE UP QUESTION

President Reaches Washington and Will Discuss Mexican Situation With Cabinet Tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—President Taft and his party returned to Washington this morning. The Mexican situation will be discussed at the cabinet meeting tomorrow. Though the president has announced his desire to limit the extra session to reciprocity and tariff commission bills, advisers show that warlike, cotton, farm machinery, meats and flour are likely to be passed. Immediately after his return the president arranged for a conference with Ambassador De la Barra of Mexico, at three this afternoon.

LEADERS PLAN TO SHORTEN SESSION

OF STATE LEGISLATURE AND INDICATIONS ARE THAT IT WILL CLOSE BY MAY 20.

COMMITTEES WILL BE BUSY

Preparing Matters For Consideration of Lawmakers.—Platform Pledges To Be Taken Up First.

Madison, Wis., March 20.—Such leaders in the legislature as Senators Sanborn, Owen, Martin, Blaine, Whitehead, Donald, Krumholz, McConnell, Hull, Ballard, Fisher, Crockett, Nye, Reed, Harper, Mohler and Pickart are determined to make the present session as short as possible, and seem in a fair way to prevent its running longer than May 20. Under an agreed arrangement by leaders the committee is to be rushed in order that all bills may be laid before the legislature for action at the earliest possible moment.

The senate committees have scheduled all bills in their possession for hearings within the next two weeks. Senator Sanborn declared today he has been assured all of the senate committees would report out all senate bills by April 1. It is declared if this arrangement is followed only assembly bills will be left to be heard by senate committees and they will be quickly disposed of. The assembly committee will, it is believed, have reported out about two-thirds of their bills by April 1. That will leave about 400 assembly bills for them to consider after that date, together with about 200 senate bills.

It is estimated that by May 14 the assembly committee will have disposed of about all the bills before them. The appropriation bills and other important measures are considered by joint committees of the two houses, which shortens the ordinary procedure one-half. It now seems probable that the advocates of a short session will be able to carry out their plans in that respect.

As a result of this agreement to hasten action on bills, the committees will be exceedingly busy during the next two weeks. Some of them will consider a dozen bills a day during the next fortnight.

It is planned to bring four big measures before the legislature late this week. These are bills providing for a new system of workmen's compensation and industrial insurance, and for a state highways commission, which will be reported to the senate, and for a stringent corrupt political practices act and for an amendment to the ballot law giving voters an opportunity to express their second choice in primary elections, which are to be reported to the assembly. Action on these four bills will be taken by the two houses next week, if the plans of leaders are carried out.

In accordance with the understanding with Governor McGovern leaders will bring up the bills designed to carry out the republican platform pledges before they can be obstructed by the mass of smaller measures which will press for consideration toward the end of the session. Indeed the four big bills to be reported out this week—Industrial insurance, highways, corrupt practices and second choice—were introduced in compliance with some of the platform pledges. The understanding between the governor and legislative leaders has led to a more cordial feeling between the administration and the two houses than hitherto prevailed, and gives promise to redemption of most of the republican platform pledges. There is an element in the legislature, it is declared who seek to bring about a rupture between the governor and party leaders, but it is freely stated the governor is sincerely desirous of the enactment of progressive legislation and will allow no party political maneuvering to interfere. Since assuming office the governor has made a record on the opinions of all and has not allowed small things to sway him from the course he believed to be right.

The Husting resolution asking the United States senate to unseat Senator Stephenson on the ground that he was guilty of fraud and bribery in securing his election two years ago, will come before the senate committee on judiciary Tuesday morning for hearing. The situation about the Stephenson case is apparently unchanged. The preponderance of sentiment among members of the legislature seems to favor the proposal to request the highest law making body to probe to the bottom the Stephenson charges. It now seems certain the Husting resolution or one of similar import, will be adopted.

The bill to reduce the annual state taxes of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee from $150,000 to about $15,000 will come before the taxation committee of the two houses tomorrow night. On Wednesday the bills on county option will be discussed in joint hearings. Thursday the question of establishing a "dry zone" of one mile around all educational institutions will be heard and on Friday the question of brewery control of saloons will be heard in joint hearing.

The senate committee on state affairs will have a hearing on automobile legislation Wednesday. Hearings on other important bills are also scheduled for the present week.

Circuit Court: Judge Grimm arrived in the city late this afternoon to take up some of the smaller matters to come before the circuit court. His train was two hours late and as a result he did not get to the court house until after four o'clock.

ROOSEVELT MAKES AN EXPLANATION OF REAL REASONS

Why Arizona Was Not Admitted to the Union by the Last Congress.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 20.—Roosevelt, in an address here today regretted Arizona's failure to be admitted to the Union and expressed a hope that the next congress would be more favorable. Apparently the objections were chiefly due to the referendum, initiative and recall features of the proposed constitution. Roosevelt did not approve of the recall and especially as it affected the judiciary. Which he thought should be free from fear, such fear as it might create. He did not think these constitutional provisions should be considered sufficient to deter Arizona, but thought the recall as affecting the judges was fraught with mischief.

MURDER OF RUSSIAN MINISTER RUMORED

Reports Telling of the Murder of the Russian Minister at Peking Have Not Been Confirmed.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGE BROUGHT

THAT INMATE OF THE ROCK COUNTY POOR FARM WAS BADLY TREATED.

AN ASSAULT IS ALLEGED

Trouble Which Occurred On February 24th Brought To Attention of the State Board of Control.

Dr. Alvin J. Frisby, member of the state board of control, was in the city this morning making an investigation of the charges that John Cunningham, an aged inmate of the Rock County Poor Farm was on Friday, February 24th beaten and mistreated by one of the attendants at the institution. Cunningham claims that he was beaten and kicked by a man named MacDonald, because his objection to being called a liar.

The matter was brought to the attention of the state board by Judge Fildes, after the case had been reported to him by Mrs. John Peters, President of the Humane society, who accompanied the man, Cunningham, to Judge Fildes' office. Cunningham reported his trouble to Mrs. Peters and she in turn took him to Attorney Marshall Richardson, who is one of the attorneys for the society.

Cunningham's story is told in the following statement drawn up by Robert Smith, another inmate.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: This is what I, the undersigned, heard and saw in this Poor House on Friday, Feb. 24, 1911, at about one o'clock; (we the inmates) had finished dinner and were sitting out of the dining room and as I came out in the serving-room I saw MacDonald, the boss and John Cunningham standing in the middle of the room, having words. I heard MacDonald say "You lie, you did take it all," and John said "I did not, and MacDonald said he had the words barely out when (bagg) MacDonald struck John, and he seemed to daze John, but he never struck MacDonald, but put up his hands to ward off the blows of MacDonald, who was striking right and left, his arms going like a wind-mill. John seemed to be trying to get hold of MacDonald who kept backing up and finally backed on to the table at the east side of the room.

MacDonald kicked John away from him and then kicked John twice in the face, the John clenched MacDonald but MacDonald caught John by the right wrist and being a young man in his prime, he threw himself partly out from under John, and held John's head down, bent over the table and then MacDonald pounded John on the small of the back with his right heel as hard as he could, 6 or 7 times, until John was so weak he could hardly stand, the MacDonald kicked off of him and the table and said to John "Now you, you can't call me a liar" and then told John "You can go down stairs and wash your face", and John went. His face was beaten and kicked to a pulp; then MacDonald went over to the Superintendent with the blood on his hands and told his side of the story and poor old John was bathing his face and did so all the rest of the day, and all he had done for it was his bathing it in hot water, and the treatment I gave him, with some alcohol and water, and some ointment I had. He had the worst face I ever saw, but the Superintendent never came near him to do anything for him.

Now what I have written is the truth, and I will swear to it any time or any place. I am

ROBERT W. SMITH.

P. S. There are plenty of other witnesses to say the same, R. W. S. ADD TO INVESTIGATION

After hearing Cunningham's story Judge Fildes reported the matter to the state board of control which resulted in the visit of Dr. Frisby here today.

Superintendent Darless at the county farm is most anxious for a thorough examination of the charges brought, and states that there is nothing to them. It is alleged that Cunningham, who is over eighty, has been a troublemaker for some time past and refused to obey the rules of the institution and that he was disciplined but not in the manner he asserts.

ALL MANKIND IS VAIN

SOOTHING BALM FOR MANY WOUNDS IN VANITY.

Uncle Hiram Warns His Nephew Not to Mistake Self-Esteem for Self-Belief—Homely Men Think Themselves Handsome.

"Stevey, my boy," said Uncle Hiram to his hopeful young nephew, "there's a terrible difference between vanity and self-belief."

"I've known plenty of men who were fairly saturated, soaking with vanity, but who didn't have real courage enough to scars away a cat. They thought they were the handsomest men alive; but there were plenty of homely men that they'd let walk right over them. They had no end of vanity, but no real self-belief."

"An matter of fact, Stephen, I think you are about as homely a young chap as I know; but it doesn't follow from that that you're rugged. And as far as that goes I never yet knew a homely man but what thought he was handsome; and that thought does a man no harm unless he lets his vanity satisfy him so that he's content to rest on that without further effort."

"Our vanity is a soothing balm for many wounds; it helps us much to bear life's buffetings. When somebody treats us rudely we say to ourselves we know what he is and we know what we are, and humph! and so on; and under such exasperation our vanity is very soothing to us, and that's all right."

"And there are millions and millions of people, Stevey, who never get anywhere in the world because they haven't got it in 'em, but who still are vain; people who never get a chance, and who wouldn't try if they did get one, because they are too timid, but who still are filled with vanity, vanity that is to them a blessing, for it is all they have or ever will have; and those may be, you understand, good, hard working people, good people; the only solace they have is their own harmless vanity. But it is a great solace; it makes life easier for them and it makes them hopeful, cheerful."

"Sometimes when I think of it I think our vanity is our greatest blessing, and I am not sure now but what it is so. Good thing to remember, Stephen, that all men, all men, are vain. Every man, whatever his lot in life, high or low, is vain and easily wounded. Never wound anybody, Stephen."

"So I have no objection to your being vain, Stephen. You may think you are handsome if you want to or you may admire your own clothes or your neckties; you may think you're the finest fellow on earth; but don't mistake your vanity for self-belief. Above all things you want really to believe in yourself, and this belief must be not a mere fancy. It must be a true, rugged, 100 per cent belief, something very different from vanity; it must be a real belief that inspires you to do things and that sustains and fortifies you; that invigorates and constantly strengthens you in whatever you undertake."

"And you must do things. You can't be content to sit down and admire yourself. You must butt into things and buck 'em, and if you're thrown on one side advance on the other, growing bigger and stronger all the time with the exercise of your strength grown invincible; finally in your blood, tissue and bone belief in yourself."

"That's what you want, Stevey, whole hearted, thorough, complete, 100 per cent belief in yourself; with that you'll get on in the world and have a little time left over to indulge in harmless vanity."

German Bureaucracy.

A good story is going the rounds of the French newspapers illustrating the beauties of bureaucratic government in Germany. We are told that in the postoffice department, if a clerk wishes a new pencil, he has to hand in the stump of the one that has become too short to work with. In the particular instance cited a clerk received his new pencil without returning the old.

Before the omission was discovered the clerk was transferred to another office. Just after he had commenced his duties at his new post he received an official intimation that he had neglected to hand in his pencil end. By this time it had disappeared, but to prevent bother the clerk purchased a new pencil, cut off a piece about the length of the missing bit, and dispatched it to the stationery department.

Fifty Persons Have Joined the Skavlem Piano Club

The half century mark has been reached. Applications for one-fourth of the Skavlem club pianos have been received. Fifty members out of the Two Hundred, the full Club membership, have already joined, leaving One Hundred and Fifty more yet to join.

The Club was started one week ago last Wednesday. In other words, the first opportunity to join the Club was given Wednesday, March 8th.

The first fifty members were therefore secured in twelve days.

It is then reasonable that the remaining one hundred and fifty memberships will be taken much more rapidly in proportion than the first fifty—and if you want to join and participate in the greatest, most liberal and economical piano event ever held, the sooner you bring or send in your application the better.

The Skavlem Piano Club

Means Economy—Liberalities—Privileges

The very essence of this big piano event is ECONOMY. Buying 200 pianos of a kind at one time means economy. Selling 200 pianos to a club of 200 members—all on the SAME PLAN, all at the SAME PRICE, giving to each the SAME GUARANTEE and PRIVILEGES and ADVANTAGES and selling them all at practically the SAME TIME—MEANS ECONOMY.

To carry such a tremendous deal to a successful conclusion naturally means that we are willing to sacrifice—a good big, liberal portion of profit—which means MORE ECONOMY.

The whole economical part of the deal, when boiled down, means that the Club gets a GOOD, HONOR-BRIGHT THREE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE DOLLAR PIANO FOR TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVEN DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS—a clean cut SAVING or ECONOMY of NINETY-SEVEN DOLLARS AND A HALF, and there is POSITIVELY NO INTEREST ADDED.

The liberalities and privileges of the Club are legion.

The strongest guarantee ever written is given to every member.

The Club member gets HIS MONEY BACK if he wants it after a 30 days' trial.

He gets a full year's time to further satisfy himself as to the reliable character of the piano. If he is dissatisfied WE WILL EXCHANGE IT WITHOUT ONE PENNY'S LOSS TO HIM.

He gets TWO FREE TUNINGS.

He gets a fine stool and beautiful scarf FREE.

He gets the piano for $277.50 WITHOUT INTEREST BEING ADDED.

He gets LIFE INSURANCE. If he dies before the piano is fully paid for, the REMAINING PAYMENTS ARE CANCELLED AND A RECEIPT IN FULL FOR THE PIANO IS TURNED OVER TO HIS FAMILY.

He gets 218 weeks' time in which to pay for the piano without it costing him OVER $277.50.

If he pays quicker than in 218 weeks he lessens the price 15 cents FOR EACH AND EVERY WEEK he reduces the time.

And so on and so on. The Skavlem Club Member gets ECONOMY. He saves $97.50. He gets LIBERALITIES, PRIVILEGES, ADVANTAGES in a big, broad and generous way. He gets them through CO-OPERATION on the YOU HELP ME AND I WILL HELP YOU PRINCIPLE, very much on the plan that railroads run big excursions—taking you to all the points of interest—giving stop-over PRIVILEGES HERE AND THERE—securing you the best HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS and saving you in many instances NEARLY ONE-HALF THE REGULAR PRICE.

For the convenience of people who cannot come in during the day the store will be open every evening until 10 o'clock.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST.
 Fair tonight and probably Tuesday, moderate temperature.

TO ALL READERS

The Gazette is anxious to bring each of its readers into closer touch with both the newspaper and each other. It would like to have them feel free to send in news items. Notices of parties, personal mentions, happenings in your own community, accidents that may occur—fact anything that you think would interest other readers. Matters of this nature can be telephoned to the editorial room. Call Rock county telephone 62, or Wisconsin phone 77 three rings. Meetings of lodges, church gatherings, and special meetings of clubs it will be necessary to have written out and left at or mailed to the Gazette to avoid mistakes which might otherwise occur.

The columns of the paper are also open to communications on subjects of interest. Write your views of affairs on one side of the paper only. Be sure and sign your name; it will not be published if you do not wish it to, and either leave or mail to the office. Try this system and you will be surprised how much more interesting the reading of the evening paper becomes to you.

ANENT COMMUNICATIONS.

There is no way in which public sentiment can be expressed as freely as through the columns of the newspaper. Realizing this the Gazette has opened its columns to communications on subjects of interest to the public in general. Recently there appeared a communication relative to the saloons, to which the editor added a foot note of explanation. From the letters and statements made, since its publication, the foot notes were evidently misunderstood. As long as the majority of the people want saloons they will remain in existence.

The law limits the number that can secure a license, limits their location, as to churches and schools, and regulates their government. The council is empowered to grant the licenses after examining the qualifications of the applicant. It lays strict restrictions as to the age of the persons to whom liquor can be sold and makes the penalty for such an offense heavy. Failure to prosecute the saloon-keepers who violate the existing ordinance is laid to the present ordinance. The real trouble lies with the parents or guardians of the youths. What Janesville needs is a curfew law. What it needs is more watchfulness on the part of the parents. There is not a Sunday that the streets are not filled with youths, smoking and talking loud, with young girls not out of their teens, in short dresses many of them, wandering up and down, flirting and otherwise misbehaving. The streets on a Saturday night, even up to eleven o'clock, are filled with this same class and not all the laws in the country can stop it if the parents or guardians do not watch after their own. The Gazette does not uphold the saloon or its environments. It stands for the best interests of humanity and the city as a whole. If the present evils could be eradicated by good, wholesome legislation, endorsed by the majority of the citizens, it would welcome the change, but as long as the majority of the voters want the dram shops they will remain, and not until the people rise in their might will they be wiped out. Meanwhile, watch your boys and girls, know where they spend their evenings, and how, do not permit them to wander about the streets at night, see that they are home in bed at a proper time, know who their friends are and gain their confidence instead of believing your duty done when you clothe and feed them. This is a plain talk that may not be relished by all, but still it is the truth. The saloons can be regulated by law, but they can not be abolished, nor can the council or mayor do more than restrict privileges until the majority of the voters of the city, county or state decide to abolish them.

The Gazette is glad to have the public express their opinions through its columns but reserves the right to comment on any that may appear.

DIAZ AND MEXICO.

The average school boy will be much better informed upon the Mexican situation than is his father if the present newspaper "war" keeps up. One of the latest "causes" for the insurgent uprising is given as the failure of the Diaz government in recent years to recognize the increasing demand for the breaking up of the great ranches and plantations, in order that the common people might be provided with land holdings, seems to have caused much of the discontent that led to the present insurrection in the republic of Mexico. It is now reported from the capital that in response to a request made by a committee of agriculturists a few days ago, President Diaz promised a division of the haciendas. Does this mean that the land-owners of Mexico have been convinced by recent occurrences that they can no longer ignore the popular demand for this reform? The Diaz government is virtually a land-owners' government. Not only is the Mexican congress dominated by the wealthy haciendas—the landed gentry of the republic—but the cabinet officers and practically all of the leading federal and state officers are representatives of this class.

The belief has long obtained in Mexico that President Diaz personally would favor the distribution of the great estates among the common people, but that he has been deterred from making a move in this direction by the influence of the land-owners around him. It must be the case now that the latter have at length awakened to a realization of the unwisdom of their opposition, for with the common people in open revolt throughout a large part of the country, it is unreasonable to suppose that the executive, who is plainly in need of support, would deliberately invite the hostility of the class that has so often befriended him.

News from Mexico City intimates that the President will not attempt to carry out this reform until the rebellion shall have ceased. He seems to offer it to the disaffected people, indeed, as an inducement to return to their normal and peaceful occupations. However this may be, it is very certain that no matter how the present disturbances may culminate or conclude the reign of the haciendas is rapidly drawing to a close. And probably nothing would tend so surely to halt the people of Mexico together, and to give all classes a common interest in the preservation of peace and good order, than land ownership that would entitle the humblest peasant in the republic to an equitable share in the soil.

TOMORROW'S PRIMARY.

The primary tomorrow should not be lost sight of. Republicans are urged to go to the polls and vote for the nominees of their ticket whether there is a contest or not. Neglect to do this may seriously handicap the efforts of the party leaders of this political party as a failure to poll twenty per cent of the vote at the last general election might mean that a republican ticket could be nominated. Do not fail to exercise your right of franchise by voting.

Special attention of the women readers is called to the special announcement on the Woman's Page of this issue relative to suggestions as to the betterment of this department of the Gazette. Read the conditions and send in your opinion to the Feature Editor before April 1.

Those contests in the Fourth and Fifth wards tomorrow promise to be the only real interesting features of tomorrow's primary. It is safe to say that every vote in the two wards will be out and voted by seven tomorrow evening.

Janesville school teachers are interested in the Teachers' Retirement Fund measure that is now being considered by the state legislature, and petitions may be drawn up and the public asked to endorse it. It is a good move in the right direction.

Assemblyman Gettle made some hard statements about the Janesville city government at the committee hearing at Madison on Saturday and the joke is that they are true, too. How did he guess it, or did he know?

That question of lighting the streets of the business district with lights similar to that now standing at the corner of the Hayes block, is worth serious consideration if it can be done without too much additional expense.

Uncle Sam has not yet finished with that Mexican trouble. This talk of Japan may be all a cover for the real purpose of the assembling of troops on the Texas border or there may be some one to the smoke.

The latest from the seat of "war" is that Diaz is to resign and the "big interests" have demanded that he step down and out. Here is more yellow journalism for you, or is it merely Josephine?

Janesville is on another paper route of a proposed railroad from St. Louis to Milwaukee. How many more will be built this way before the actual construction really begins?

The legislature is evidently waiting until LaFollette has time to put his approval upon certain measures before they get down to business.

Milwaukee socialists do not want any time at their public concerts. They would like the work of the great masters. Good for the socialists.

Tonight's session of the common council promises to be most interesting as well as somewhat heated if present plans do not miscarry.

PRESS COMMENT.

Wasn't it 600?
 Oshkosh Northwestern: The estimate of the number of women who appeared at Madison to urge the adoption of an equal suffrage law in Wisconsin, places the figure at about 600. Evidently another "Charge of the Four Hundred."

A Fine Chance.
 Rockford Republic: After all an innocent man who may have been gathered into that big cage at Viterbo will stand a fine chance of getting justice, if evidence points toward a majority of the bunch.

Now They Have Them!
 Oshkosh Northwestern: Many Oshkosh women believe men join lodges just to get another excuse for going down town after supper.

Sulphur Blondes.
 Madison Democrat: An eminent scientist announces that red hair is red because it has a large proportion of sulphur in its composition. Possibly that accounts for the fading tendency of its owner.

Going After Them.
 State Journal: New Jersey is building a church on wheels, so that it can be moved around to catch congregations. Rather tough on those who want to go fishing Sundays.

Different Matter.
 Detroit Free Press: Farmers at Haysville, Kansas, are said to be so incensed over having a colored man for mail carrier that they refuse to receive their mail through him. Letters known to contain checks will probably be accepted, however.

Always Has Something.
 Waupun Record-Herald: Champ Clark is a picnic for the reporters. He is a delight to their news noses and a joy forever.

Serious Operation.
 Sentinel: President Diaz may be sick or he may be well, but we fear that he will undergo an operation presently for the removal of his presidency.

Who is a Thief?
 Rockford Star: Frank Gould threatens to expose Standard Oil. What is that old saying about taking a certain person to catch a certain person?

The Right Place.
 Galesburg Mail: A court house is an appropriate place for discussion of matters pertaining to the election of the junior senator for Illinois.

A New Doctrine.
 La Crosse Tribune: A correspondent to the Ohio State Journal says the Mexican incident compels the enunciation of a new doctrine, to wit, that the "flag follows the dollar."

No, But They Spoke.
 Green Bay Gazette: The president played a game of golf with a new York man. Nothing has been said of it, however, regarding a match with John D. Rockefeller, who is also sojourning in Augusta.

My neighbor sleeps outdoors; he lies out there and snores; and then next day he goes his way, the dreariest of bodes. He tells me the most tales of how he braved the gales; in peace he slept while torrents swept, and hail came down in palls. The frost was on his nose, and ice was on his toes; he snored on until the dawn, when though nearly frozen, he has a deep disdain for people so insane that they will try to slumber dry, away from snow and rain. This land of ours is free, and men may fiddle as they may; join the owls and other fowls, and roost up in a tree. Or they may burrow deep where snakes and ground-hogs sleep, or hang on hooks in quiet nooks, or "neath the stable creep. But when their sleep is over, and they have ceased to snore, they should be drowned if they go round their helpless friends to bore.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

FEAR IS EVIL.

This is the suggestive picture of a modern painting:

Some savages stand with upturned faces gazing at an eclipse of the sun. The sun is partly in shadow. The weird light reveals the terror written upon every face.

The picture is named "Superstition." The savages are frightened at the shadow of a shadow passing over the sun's face. Fear of something, they know not what, makes life a fearful thing.

But, come to think of it—Civilized man is little better in some respects. He, too, is frightened at shadows. His fear is as foolish as that of the savage. He works himself into a mental state where he loses his head; the fear becomes contagious, and—

"The panic" is born.

The panic is mostly aggregated pessimism. A group of men get the idea that money is going to be tight and interest rates high. They confide their fear. By and by men agree that the outlook is gloomy. It becomes gloomy. Credit disappears. In subject fear the panic spreads.

Men say, "Money is scarce." It is not true. There is as much money in existence as usual. None has been destroyed. Nevertheless, under the monstrous fear of what may be, "hard times" appear.

Fear is an evil thing. It makes the civilized man a victim almost as helpless as the superstitious savage. It destroys confidence. It sows distrust. It paints a shadow on the face of the sun.

Could we banish fear we could put civilization ahead a thousand years. Could we cut out pessimism there never would be another panic.

Therefore the duty of all who love their fellows and desire the progress of the race is plain:

French optimism. Practice it. Let not pessimism and the fear of what is not have domination over you.

Does the shadow of a shadow appear over your sun? It is only a shadow and will rapidly pass. Laugh at the shadow. Laugh out loud!

Laughter is contagious, as fear is contagious. Fear cannot live in the atmosphere of laughter.

It is in your power to laugh at foolish fears and make the world laugh with you or to crouch and cry out your fears and make the world afraid.

DISEASE MENACES MANEUVER CAMP

Measles and Mumps Appear at Fort Sam Houston.

GRANT TO RELIEVE CARTER

Former Commander of the Lakes Will Soon Assume Charge in Texas
Which Puts Quiet on War Talk.

San Antonio, Tex., March 20.—The appearance of measles and mumps in the maneuver camp at Fort Sam Houston is causing the officers considerable apprehension.

A number of cases are in the hospital. As fast as the disease develops the men are rigidly quarantined. Both contagious diseases were introduced by recruits from Fort Oglethorpe. Each recruit is now carefully inspected before being permitted to come into camp. So far no deaths have been reported, but the appearance of either disease is a serious menace to a camp of more than 10,000 men.

General Grant to Succeed Carter. Nothing since the mobilization of the troops here has put such a quietus on the war talk as the announcement that Maj. Gen. Fred D. Grant, within a few weeks, is to succeed Major General Carter, in command of the division and that later General Grant will be relieved by Maj. Gen. Arthur Murray. High officers admit that if there was a likelihood of war General Carter, who has become thoroughly acquainted with the situation, would not be replaced by some general who would have to acquire that information. It is now generally admitted that the likelihood of the division moving on Mexico is growing less each day.

Mexico Becoming Quieter. Reports received here from all points in Mexico are of a most encouraging nature. That railroad communication with Chihuahua has been opened both north and south and that the insurgents have not made a stand at any point where they have not been defeated is taken by the officers to mean that the vigor shown by Mexico since the troops arrived on the border is having its effect on restoring tranquillity. Another significant event is that Minister Limantour, next to President Diaz the most powerful, and probably the most hated man in Mexico, made the trip from Laredo to Mexico City without molestation. He passed through some of the territory reported to have been infested with rebels.

Peace in Sight. Washington, March 20.—Peace is assured in the republic of Mexico within the present week if certain influences now at work toward that end prove effective. With the arrival in Mexico City of Senator Limantour, minister of finance, President Diaz will begin a series of conferences which it is expected will result in the announcement within three or four days of a reorganized cabinet.

Minister Limantour will present an explanation of the demands of the revolutionists and the changes in the official family of President Diaz, as well as the institution of certain reforms, are confidently expected to appease the insurgents.

May Withdraw Troops. In the meantime President Taft will confer with Ambassador de la Barra, and there is good ground for the assumption that the troops now concentrated in Texas immediately will begin a series of maneuvers and return shortly to their posts.

The insurgents have taken the stand that their operations have proved that they are willing to risk a great deal to secure the adoption of certain reforms in the government, and falling in this they will continue the strife. Besides the proposals which Senator Limantour is known to be bearing to President Diaz, it is reported that the relations of prominent insurgent sympathizers in various parts of the republic have become known to President Diaz and will play no small part in the reorganization of his cabinet.

KEY MEN TAKE STRIKE VOTE

Fourteen Hundred Telegraphers on Illinois Central Road Angered by Wage Raise Refusal.

Chicago, March 20.—Fourteen hundred telegraphers employed by the Illinois Central railroad between Chicago and New Orleans are taking a strike vote, as a result of a refusal by the company to grant a wage increase of 25 per cent, with 50 cents an hour for overtime.

Demands for the increase were made by the telegraphers a year ago, and the matter was submitted to arbitration under the Erdman law. The men were given a reduction in hours of labor, with a vacation of two weeks each year with pay.

They did not receive any wage increase, however, and never were satisfied with the award.

FLOOD STORY A MYTH

DR. AKED SAYS MUCH OF BIBLE IS ALLEGORICAL.

Declares Many Statements Are Creation of Primitive People, Recording Early Natural Phenomena.

New York, March 20.—That many of the statements in the Bible, particularly those in the early chapters of Genesis are founded on myth, was the statement of Dr. Aked at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church.

"The flood," said he, "is not believed to be a fact in history by the student of the Scriptures, nor by a student of science. The stories of the flood and many others in the Bible are too much at variance with themselves to warrant belief in them as history.

"It may be startling to be told that the Bible is founded on myth. But then, myth is nothing more than the spontaneous creation of a primitive people, which may be considered as the recording of some early natural phenomena. It is for us to learn the lesson that myth teaches. Myth has beauty and meaning, for it lies at the very beginning of all history and narrative. It would be strange, therefore, if the Bible did not contain myth."

LINCOLN RELIC IS BURNED

Private Car Which Carried Martyred President From Washington to Springfield Is Destroyed.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 20.—The historic Lincoln car, the private traveling carriage of Abraham Lincoln and the car that carried his body from Washington to Springfield, Ill., for burial in 1865, was destroyed by a prairie fire that swept Columbia Heights, burning every bit of dry grass in the northeast part of the city and setting fire to the crane in which the car had been boxed.

Scores of women and children turned out to fight the fire with buckets of water and brooms. Fragments of ruins of the historic car will be saved as mementoes by Edmund G. Walton, manager of Columbia Heights Land company, its owners.

REPUBLIC STEEL HEAD QUILTS

Tracy W. Guthrie Retires as President April 15—Thomas J. Bray to Succeed.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 20.—The resignation of Tracy W. Guthrie as president of the Republic Iron & Steel company has been made public, and the same has been accepted by the board of directors. Much secrecy surrounds the retirement of Guthrie, after three years as president. The resignation will become operative April 15 next. The announcement of the retirement of Guthrie was followed by the statement from the officers of the company that Thomas J. Bray, vice-president of the company, has been elected to succeed Guthrie. Mr. Bray has been an official of the Republic company many years.

KAISERIN'S HEALTH IS BAD

Empress is Suffering From Attack of Influenza—Cancels Visit to Francis Joseph.

Berlin, March 20.—Disquieting reports are current regarding Empress Augusta Victoria's impaired state of health. After she had been kept in her room nearly two weeks by an attack of influenza she disregarded her physician's advice and went to the last court ball. Since then she has suffered greatly from the after effects of the influenza.

She will not accompany Emperor William on his visit to Francis Joseph in Vienna, but will go direct from Berlin to the island of Cortu, where the emperor will pass his vacation.

BREAKS 100 MILE AUTO MARK

Teddy Tetzlaff Beats De Palma and Harroun's Record in Match Race, at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—Teddy Tetzlaff, at the wheel of his Lozier, which won him world-wide fame in the Santa Monica road race, hauled down the colors of two champions when he defeated Ralph De Palma and the Fiat "car" in a match race for 100 miles and incidentally smashed De Palma's former speedway records of 25 and 50 miles and set a new world's record for the century run, smashing Ray Harroun's sensational time by more than two minutes.

Tetzlaff's time for the 100 miles was one hour, 15 minutes, 29.15 seconds, and De Palma's time was one hour, 19 minutes, 34.15 seconds.

TONS OF BROOM CORN BURNED

Seven Buildings Are Destroyed by Fire at Charleston, Ill.—Loss $200,000.

Charleston, Ill., March 20.—This place narrowly missed destruction by fire when seven buildings and twelve hundred tons of broom corn were totally destroyed with an estimated loss of $200,000, covered by insurance of two-thirds of the loss.

Wreck Victims' Bodies Found. Cleveland, O., March 20.—Life savers recovered the bodies of Edwin Holmes and Edwin Johnson, who lost their lives with six others when the fishing tug Silver Spray went down off Cleveland harbor last Thursday.

PULLS A POLICEMAN'S NOSE

Arizona Cattleman Slain as Result of Row in Chinese Restaurant During Supper.

Globe, Ariz., March 20.—George Shanley, a cattleman, chose a fatal method of combating a dispute. Shanley and a party of friends were at supper in a Chinese restaurant. Among them was the city marshal. The latter and Shanley got into an argument, which developed into a quarrel.

Finally Shanley reached over and pulled the policeman's nose. "Do that again and I'll shoot," the officer is reported to have cried. Shanley did. A second later a bullet penetrated his heart. The marshal surrendered.

KILLS WIFE, SHOTS AT SON

Printer Slashes Own Throat After Slaying Woman—Tragedy Follows Quarrel.

Chicago, March 20.—As a climax to several hours of quarrelling, Bernard Opatolinsky, 67 years old, shot and killed his wife, Maggie, attempted to shoot his son, James, and then slashed his own throat with a razor just before the police arrived to arrest him. The tragedy occurred at their home, 1818 West Eighteenth street, Opatolinsky is at the county hospital and is not expected to live.

For the last week Opatolinsky, who is a printer, has been nursing a grudge against his family, according to the son.

POST BANKS A SUCCESS

DEPOSITS IN 48 OFFICES IN TWO MONTHS $135,869.

Restriction on Saving Over $100 in Thirty Days Found to Work Hardship.

Washington, March 20.—Officials of the post office department agree that experience has demonstrated that postal savings banks are a great success.

If applied to all money order offices in the country and patronized to the same extent as at present in the 48 offices where they have been opened, the postal savings banks would have on deposit after one year's operation about $200,000,000.

On January 2, 1911, postal savings banks were opened in 48 offices. On February 28, 1911, 3,323 accounts had been opened in these offices and $364 individual deposits made. The average deposit reached the unusually large amount of $21.50. During this period only 259 accounts were drawn out and closed.

The net amount of deposits at the offices after two months' operation is $135,869, and it is estimated that if the business retains its present volume at the close of 12 months the deposits will amount to $362,214.

The 48 post offices selected for the introduction of postal savings banks are small offices, the combined population of all the cities being only about 370,000. Among the 48 offices Point, Ill., ranks thirteenth in the volume of business.

It has been found since the introduction of the system that the law restricting monthly deposits to $100 and annual deposits to $500 works a serious hardship. There is in this country a large amount of money in hiding. It has been accumulated over a period of years. The postal savings banks invited it out of hiding.

Congress at the last session appropriated $100,000 for the extension of postal savings banks. The board of trustees had asked for $1,000,000 for this purpose. It is the board's intention to use the appropriation to open several hundred more banks throughout the country. Washington will be the only first-class post office to be given a postal savings bank at this time.

GIVES STRANGER HIS BLOOD

Detroit Motorman Permits Two Quarts to Be Drawn From Artery to Save A Hospital Patient.

Detroit, Mich., March 20.—John Wyner, a motorman, allowed two quarts of his blood to be pumped into the veins of W. L. Hanson, Abernathy, Saskatchewan, Canada, who was suffering from aneurism, and had tried in vain every other known remedy.

Transfusion of blood was necessary to save Hanson's life. Wyner, who is 30 years old, and weighs 230 pounds, consented to give the blood without a thought of compensation. He had never seen Hanson before he went to Harper hospital, where for nearly two hours red drops pulsated from the healthy man to the weak one.

FATHER TAKEN AS SLAYER

Farmer Accused by Son of Murdering Hired Man Is Placed Under Arrest.

Towler, Ind., March 20.—John W. Poole, a farmer living about six miles southeast of this place, was arrested by Sheriff Frank Shackleton on a charge of murder.

The charge against Poole is that he killed a farm employe named Joseph Kemper in December, 1909, and the information was given to the detectives by the farmer's son, Emory Poole.

Poole takes his arrest stoically, and when asked regarding the alleged crime replied that his son was a bad boy and he had been compelled to forbid his coming on the farm. That was all he would say.

BIG BEAR'S EXPANDED SUPPER

Brown Eats Ten Pounds of Dried Apples and Then Visits the Lake.

Residents of Butte, Mont., and vicinity, when desirous to hunt ducks and geese, are wont to camp in the Red Rock Lake district. Two men of Butte, on such an expedition, were so tired on arriving at their destination that they pitched their tent, piled their provisions without even stopping to put them under cover, and turned in for the night. One of the men, Pitcher by name, slept alone in the tent nearest the provisions.

A few hours later he was awakened by a sound near by, a curious rasping and grating sound. Pitcher raised his head from the blankets and looked out through the opening in the tent. Clearly outlined against the low-hanging moon he saw a huge black bear busily engaged in sampling the provisions. As the bear was in the other tent, there was nothing to do but to wait for the bear to leave. Indeed, Pitcher was none too anxious to attract bear's attention; and he lay very still, holding his breath, till the bear, with a satisfied grunt, finally ambled off in the direction of the lake.

Early the next morning—before dawn, in fact—Pitcher took his gun and started on the trail of the bear. As he neared the lake he saw just before him a dark object which, in the dim light, seemed to move. Cautiously the hunter sank to his knees to get a better sight on the strange object. A moan of anguish was wafted to the ears of the man, and there followed a moment of painful suspense. Then a ray of light revealed an animal lying upon its back its feet in the air, wriggling like the feelers of a bug that has been upset.

It was the bear—the big, black bear—in great distress. It writhed in agony when it caught sight of its pursuer, and its struggles were pitiful to behold. Pitcher dispatched the creature with a bullet. The report awakened his companion, and before the smoke had cleared away he, too, was on the scene.

Upon inspection of the provisions it was found that they had been attacked by the bear during the night; that the big bear had eaten a ten-pound package of dried apples. It further developed that the bear had gone to the edge of the lake and drunk plentifully of the waters thereof. How much he drank was, of course, never known, but it was enough to agitate the apples.

Plague of "Spitting Snakes."

In the region round Bahrel-Ghazal, Soudan, during the last two years "spitting snakes" have made their appearance in great numbers. Many natives have been temporarily blinded by these snakes during that period. At first the eyes are painful, but the effect of the poison begins to decrease after a treatment continued for seven to ten days.

NOTIONS ABOUT BABES

SUPERSTITIONS OF MOTHERS REGARDING THEIR CHILDREN.

Customs Supposed to Bring Luck and Protect the Child—Spanish Method of Determining Baby's Walk in Life.

Probably most of us are superstitious upon at least one point, and mothers are particularly so with respect to their children.

It is still considered an absolute necessity, in many parts of England, that a child, when first leaving the mother's room, should go upstairs before going down, otherwise it will never rise in the world. Of course, it frequently happens that the room of the mother is the highest in the house. When such is the case the difficulty is met by the nurse setting a chair and stepping upon that before she leaves the room.

A similar progressive career is said to lie in the lap of the future of the child who makes its initial bow to the world on a Sunday—no doubt on the principle of the better the day the better the deed.

But there are numerous other superstitions relating to the first days of a baby's life which are the heritage of the mother for all time. Prosperity and long life are assured to the baby in whose hand a silver coin or a new laid egg is placed, and the same good luck will be the lot of the infant if it is placed in a maiden's arms before anyone else touches it.

The little one should on no account make its first public appearance out of doors unless it is accompanied by a small loaf of bread, an egg, some salt and a penny. If this precaution is omitted the grown-up career of the baby will be one of poverty and distress. Good luck is supposed to hang over the baby that cries lustily during the christening ceremony. In Spain the newly-born infant's face is swept with a pine bough to bring it good luck. The Spaniards also believe in determining the baby's walk in life at once. To do this they place a silver coin, a sword, a silver cross, a book and some fruit in front of him, and let him make his choice. If he takes the coin, he will go into business; if the sword, he will be a soldier; the cross, a priest; the book, a scholar, and the fruit, a farmer. They also believe that a band of gold, or silver, or even jet, put around baby, will keep him from harm.

The Turks put a piece of mud, which has been steeped in hot water, upon baby's forehead, believing that the charms which have been used in preparing the mud will protect the child. The Hindus declare that baby must be called after the name of a god, for then will the deity be flattered at the frequent use of his name and be induced to think well of the child. The Arabians name the child as soon as it is born, as then the tribesmen will honor it. The Persians string amulets and necklets around baby's neck, as then the bad spirits will not touch him.

The Belgians teach their babies to make the sign of the cross, for they believe that this will certainly outwit the devil.

THEATERS

Such now famous compositions as Tachalkowsky's Pathetic Symphony and Elgar's Symphony were first brought out in America by Mr. Damrosch and the New York Symphony Orchestra. The Tachalkowsky Symphony is now perhaps the most important item in any symphony society's repertoire. This season Mr. Damrosch has brought forward two novelties by English composers who were, until he introduced them totally unknown in this country—Delius and William Wallace.

William Wallace's tone poem, "Villon" played at the first concert of the season made a sensational success and was received with such tributes from the New York press as had not been allotted to a modern work for several years. Delius' "String Quartet" likewise aroused considerable interest. Another novelty of the current season has been Delius' "Tondos de Printemps," one of a series of three mazures for orchestra, the latest made which this ultramodern composer has set to paper.

The Metropolitan Opera House, where Mr. Damrosch conducted for so long a time, has seen fit to honor him recently by appointing him one of the jury of four who will decide upon the merits of the twenty-five operas by American composers which have been handed in in the competition for the prize which the Metropolitan Opera Company has offered for the best one.

She will take special measurements, fit all forms and give special instructions.

Every woman who wants a good Corset will do well to call at this store on this occasion. She can learn much about the figure and form building; about hygienic corseting, and about the wonderful GOSSARD Corsets.

GOSSARD Corsets sell as low as $3.50 and up to $10.00

Any Man or Woman can transform a soft wood floor into a perfect imitation of a beautiful grained hard wood floor in a few minutes with

Chi-Namel

and the Chi-Namel Self-Grainer

Or an old hard wood floor, furnished, etc., may be made to look like new, with a harder, more durable finish than it had originally.

Chi-Namel colors the wood, and warms it at the same time, and the surface is so hard that walking or washing will not remove the gloss.

This new self-grainer makes it easy for anyone to produce a beautiful grained effect, exactly like the most expensive hard wood floors.

Call at our store and allow us to demonstrate how easy it is to grain and varnish by this improved system. Free samples while they last.

Madison on the ground of its being the seat of the state university. The addresses were made before the Social Problems group at the First Congregational church. The speakers were Prof. E. A. Gilmore of the college of law, J. L. Childs, Eau Claire, editor-in-chief of the Daily Cardinal, the student newspaper; and Assemblyman E.
W. Draper, Clark county.

In the discussion that followed, Senator George E. Scott, Prairie farm, rose and said that he had once asked the father of the badmouther boys, famous Minnesota university athletes, why he did not send his sons to the University of Wisconsin. The reply was that he had heard too much about the saloons of Madison and their influence upon the students. Prof. L.
S. Smith, engineering college, said that as a result of detectives' investigations a year or so ago, evidence was secured sufficient to have convicted every saloonkeeper for selling to minors. Half a dozen were convicted. "The saloonkeepers asked for fair play," he said, "but they are not giving us fair play."

Prof. Gilmore declared that 5,000 young people come here yearly in the formative period of their lives and that the boys soon learn to drink. He said that an educational problem arises the university must deal with the moral problem of the students.
Parents all over the state feel that the university authorities are responsible for their boys' welfare in Madison, and Bill 188A, he said, is intended to grant this reasonable demand.

Mr. Childs said that excessive drinking among the students is a fact that any amount of contradiction cannot lessen. At Urbana, Ill., where saloons were eliminated by legislative enactment, he cited drinking was reduced 75 per cent. This was the statement of Dean Clark, who knows the students intimately. Mr. Childs related many cases of brilliant high school scholars who were "ruined" at Madison of dissipation due to saloons. He said many parents refuse to send their children here because of the environment. He said the student body is willing to have the saloons removed.
Some of the upper classmen who have long been accustomed to excessive drinking are among the strongest advocates of the proposed elimination measure. He instanced the action of three student wards in Madison in voting dry at the last election, the going on record of many student societies and clubs against the saloon and the endorsement of 188A, by the student conference as signs of student support of the bill.

Assemblyman Draper said that a mile limit was a restrictive enough the discountenance the proposal to make one-half of the capital square dry and the other wet, as the mile-limit proposal would do. The university is not a local institution, he said, but one owned by the state for its people. He quoted statistics showing that the state expends $1,669,000 yearly from taxes for the institution's support and that athletes alone cost over $23,000. The enrollment Jan. 1 last was 4,531 and the cost by the state per student $248. Adding to this the cost of living for each student by the parents makes the total cost to the students and parents $1,300,200.
"What is the city of Madison doing to tear down what the state is attempting to build up," he asked. "You have in Madison 67 saloons each paying a $500 license fee. This gives the city $33,500 a year, which the city gets as blood money for the purpose of paying on the students body in this city."

Assemblyman Draper told of cases where men of his acquaintance had sent their sons to other colleges instead of Wisconsin because of fear of bad moral environments here.
Columbia was given by H. H.
Edwards, Congregational university
pastor, educated in eastern schools, that Wisconsin is emphatically not a godless nor unwholesome institution and that Wisconsin is no worse than many other large universities, but that a situation here that is conducting in the interests of the students and their parents, and that the legislature owes it to them to grant their demand.

ESKIMOS DISCOVER LONG LOST PAPERS

Professor Leith of the State University Receives Word From Wills of Laborer As To Valuable Notes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., March 20.—From the wills of the Hudson Bay country, to the north of the black Labrador coast Prof. C. K. Leith of the university of Wisconsin yesterday received a message. It brought vivid reminders of a harrowing experience suffered by himself and two other university of Wisconsin men in Hudson's Bay two years ago next summer. In a ship wreck on the Bay the Leith party lost all their belongings, including all of Prof. Leith's notes, which were considered invaluable. Yesterday a man named Phiberty came out of the wilds to Port Arthur, where he telegraphed Prof. Leith he had received from Eskimos the package of notes that had been lost on the open bay two years before. The message stated that Phiberty had mailed the package to Prof. Leith at Madison, and the latter is now eagerly anticipating its arrival.

CALL AND TRY THEM ON

We are glad to have all ladies call to see our immense line.
It is no trouble to show the garments, in fact we feel that we must show them before you can judge for yourself as to their values. We have a large force and can serve everyone promptly.

Special Department for Wash Dresses

The demand for Ready Made Wash Dresses for children, juniors, misses and women has grown so large that we have found it necessary to put in a special department in connection with our Wearing Apparel Section. We are devoting considerable space and all garments are conveniently arranged and displayed, with plenty of room for inspection and to try them on. We have one saleslady who gives her entire attention to this department. We understand that it is no an easy matter to decide hastily about the particular garment desired and we wish to impress the trade generally with the fact that we are more than anxious to have everyone come in and look over the line, ask questions and get posted. You don't have to decide at once.

ONE-PIECE DRESS, black and white percale, at $3.50, made of best percale on the market. White insertion, square yoke with bias bands. High neck, three-quarter sleeves, full skirt trimmed with bias bands. Also shown in a variety of colors. Straight plaids, little checks in this number at $4.00. Also dotted lawn in black and white, pink dots of white. These dresses are made of fine bordered lawn, the borders being used for trimmings. Made with Dutch neck, three-quarter sleeves, skirt with top French founce trimmed with border top and bottom.

One-piece Dress of gingham, trimmed with chambray to match, embroidery insertion on cuffs and Dutch neck, suitable for street or morning wear. The Princess line of dresses ages 2 to 18. Several of the Princess dresses are illustrated above. They are conceded by merchants to be the strongest line of children's dresses in the United States. Of course, every merchant is going to boost his own line, but the Princess is backed by a National reputation built up over a long period of years. They were really the first house in the country to make children's dresses. Ages 2 to 14.

One dress made of very fine gingham trimmed with embroidery and lace piped with white and contrasting pique; others trimmed with soutache braid, priced at $1.25.

this dress at the price, $2.50.

The Armstrong Line of Dresses. Prices Range Up to $5.00

These dresses are made entirely of Anderson or French Ginghams, finely tailored and finished throughout. They are considered by the trade generally to be exceptionally fine garments. Ages 6 to 14, priced $2 to $6.00.

Come in good variety of colors, harmonious in pattern and make. This line positively will stand washing. They are made with deep hems which are a great advantage to growing girls.

WOMAN'S PAGE

To Our Women Readers.

IT IS VERY evident that the women readers of the Gazette are interested in seeing this paper made the best possible medium for information that can be. Last Saturday the Gazette first published in this space a request to the women readers to express their views on the subject and so much interest has been displayed that it has been decided to increase the prizes to four, making the first prize a Caloric Fireless Cookstove.

The letters received thus far have been full of excellent suggestions as to the making of this page, and even other pages in the paper, more pleasing to the readers. There has been some confusion, however, owing to the list of subjects which were printed. The writers of the articles do not need to confine themselves to the subjects suggested, but can write on any phase of the paper's make-up that they may desire. The list is given merely to suggest a topic for you to write on.

Remember that each article must be plainly written on one side of the paper only and confined to about one hundred words. They must be in the Gazette office by April 1, and should be addressed to the "Feature Editor." If mailed, a two-cent stamp should be placed on the envelope to insure prompt delivery.

The Gazette is anxious to obtain your views on the subject of making its columns more interesting to you and all other women readers, so do not hesitate to express your individual opinions. The Gazette wants you to take a special interest in the paper you read daily by helping to make it more interesting.

Remember the prizes offered for the best four articles on this subject.

FIRST PRIZE—CALORIC FIRELESS COOKSTOVE.
SECOND PRIZE—$5.00 IN MONEY.
THIRD PRIZE—$3.00 IN MONEY.
FOURTH PRIZE—$2.00 IN MONEY.

Have your answers in the Gazette office as early as possible and not later than April 1.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

WHEN the clarinet player began, John shut up his book, rose from his chair and went to the window. "Do you know my friend?" he asked, then those four you play here every Friday?"

"So, sir." His voice was very deferential and as kind as his music.

"Well, don't you think we must all be very tired of them?"

"I often think of that, sir. I often think of that. But you only hear them every Friday."

"You mean you hear them every day of the week?"

"That is what I mean, sir."

"There is always the other person's point of view. You learn that as you go along, and, in the street you will learn it as quickly as anywhere. THE MAN WHO RUNS INTO YOU ON THE PAVEMENT IS GOING IN HIS DIRECTION AS WELL AS YOU, AND IT IS ALWAYS A NICE POINT TO DECIDE WHETHER YOU RUN INTO HIM OR HE INTO YOU."

—From the "City of Delightful Nonsense."

Seems to be there is one of the best sermons I have ever read in that clever little passage from a very clever little book.

"There is always the other fellow's point of view."

That sounds like a common place statement, at least, an axiom.

BUT while EVERYBODY knows it, only one in a hundred remembers to APPLY it in judging the conduct of his fellow beings.

On an ocean trip which I took last summer the ship was some hours late in starting owing to an unexpectedly heavy freight. During this wait I happened to be sitting near the first officer, and I should say on an average of every three minutes someone asked him when the ship would sail, and he answered that it was quite impossible for him to tell.

Towards the last his answers became rather short and I heard one woman come away saying most indignantly to her companion: "Well, I think he is a queer officer if he cannot answer one simple little question more pleasantly than that. Don't that what he's paid for? I declare, I have a mind to complain of him to the company."

Now if the lady in question had only considered that it wasn't her one simple little question that had tried the officer's temper, but seventy-five or a hundred variations of that little question, I am sure she would have been more tolerant.

But you see, she just didn't remember that "There is always the other person's point of view."

And that's the way with most of us.

We don't mean to be unreasonable, but we just don't think of the other side of the matter.

If we only would try harder to remember that everybody with whom we deal has a point of view which includes circumstances and conditions which we can't possibly understand or appreciate, surely we would pass more lenient judgments.

advance us in our life work. And they can be that if we will only try to make them so. The responsibility of a family has held many a man true to his course until his habits became so fixed that he could work on his success calmly and efficiently. The need of caring for parents or younger brothers and sisters has kept many a person from flying off at a tangent or following an uncertain course and so spoiling the real intent and purpose of his life.

Responsibility taken in the right spirit is not a curse or a burden. It can be made not a crutch but a very light unto the feet. A beacon that directs one to the shores of the untrodden land of Endeavor, where the true mental life has its real home in the furnace of experience.

So, too, we must view the burden of ignorance. And ignorance is always the plague of the weak. The strong person tries to know. Of course there are untold numbers of people of nature that keep all of us in ignorance of certain principles of life, of certain phases of human character and of our own personality, but they do not interfere so much after all with our quest to be true men and women as seem to try to believe.

Ignorance is a condition which a little careful consideration will dispel. A literary and careful introduction will help us overcome many difficulties in this particular and will advance us far on our journey through life.

That is what makes ignorance so pitiful—because it might be easily overcome if individuals were true to themselves and less prone to accept the plea of ignorance as the final argument in all causes. We need to grow stronger in our adherence to the desire for the truth and our anxiety for the banishment of ignorance. Whatever may have been justified in the ages when ignorance was a condition of civilization it is not to be said now. This is the age of light and enlightenment and the plea of ignorance can never take away our responsibility for anything that goes wrong. As long as our intelligences are alive and working we must advance to the fuller knowledge and so dispel ignorance.

DIT AND SUP HABIT BAD.

A difference of opinion has existed as to whether water should be drunk with food. Recent experiments have seemed to indicate that water may be drunk with benefit at meal time. This is not finally settled, but it is certain that the practice of following a bit of food immediately with a mouthful of water, or other liquid, washing it down without proper mastication and mixture with the saliva is injurious. Children should especially be trained to avoid this habit.

The KITCHEN CABINET

The fact that housekeeping is being taught in our rural schools in up-to-date communities, and is being put into the curriculum on par with other studies, leads us to hope that before another generation we may have the servant problem near its solution.

There is no danger that the office or store will be robbed, for there will be plenty of girls more adapted to such work than to housekeeping; but in that good time coming the business world will not be overrun with poor clerks, poor stenographers, poor teachers, who might have been excellent home keepers, for many of our housewives are not strong enough to bear the work of their own households. The business world is overflowing with mediocre workers who are earning the barest kind of a living when they might be well clothed, well fed and earning a good wage doing something they are fitted for.

What we need more than any other quality in womanhood is an increase of patriotism, more of the fighting blood of our ancestors.

The truest patriot lives for his country and dies if necessary for it. We need more of the kind that live for it, who will sacrifice for it, give time, thought, money and energy to making the world better; and we may each have a share in the great work.

Some one has so well said "that the weakest among us has a gift, however seemingly trivial, which if rightly used may be a benefit to our race forever." Let us find the thing we can do best, and use that power for the betterment of the world, and be done with the old prayer:

"The Lord bless me and my wife, My son John and his wife."

For, after all, the most successful life is the unselfish one which leaves the world better than he found it.

Nellie Maxwell.

Merely a Suggestion.

"We are going to have a street fair here next spring," boasted the native. "It would be more to your credit," rejoined the stranger within the gates, "if you would cut out the street fair and make an effort to have fair streets."

"Two dollars a year."

"Is it intended for any particular class of people?"

For Constipation

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures. The active medicinal ingredients of Resalt Orderlies, which are odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthening. Resalt orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do for you say this will. Two sizes, 25c and 50c. Sold only at our store—The Resalt Store, The Smith Drug Co.

Croup Conquered

Every Mother Should Read and Remember This.

In any home where a child has a tendency to croup, a bottle of HYOMEL (pronounced It High-ome) should be kept constantly on hand.

A sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is up to come on at any time.

The course to be pursued is plain. Send for your doctor at once, and in the meantime drop 20 drops of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it, cover with a towel or cloth, so that only the air filled with Hyomel vapor is breathed.

This method of treatment has saved many a child's life, and mothers of croupy children should see to it that HYOMEL is always on hand. Full instructions for prompt relief of croup is in each package.

A 50c bottle of HYOMEL is all you need in treating croup. This is known in all drug stores as Extra Bottle Hyomel Inhalant. The People's Drug Co. and druggists everywhere sell it. Breathe HYOMEL. It is guaranteed to cure croup, croup, sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds, or money back.

GOLDEN COWNS THE FASHION

Abundance of Yellow Metal in Women's Fabrics Forebodes Success of King George's Coronation.

Gold is employed lavishly in several gowns that have been made recently for Mrs. Orme Wilson, tissues and threads of gold, bosses of gold, borders of gold. Mrs. Wilson has stolen a march on her rivals for social supremacy, and is in advance of the fashion, for the abundance of the yellow metal in women's fabrics this year is a foreboding of King George's coronation. Indeed, gold is to be used even in the manufacture of uniforms for summer troops. A leading gown designer says: "It is to be a great year for dress. Everything will be equally. It would seem that velvet on a ground of chiffon or alion would be too heavy for summer wear, but this will not be the case, for it is being made so light as to almost look like a shimmer of satin. All clothes will be wonderful colorings and pompous designs. Broadcloth of gold will have large pompous patterns embroidered in many colors, which, of course, must harmonize, as do different colored flowers in a bouquet. A kind of mustard shade to be worn for evening cloaks, woven with gold threads. The color of the year undoubtedly will be a subdued—blue, a shade between red and petunia. All empire styles will be in vogue, and gowns draped with chiffon will no longer have the same effect, as the chiffon folds extend almost to the hem."

OF LIBERTY AND LACE

This new model is of pink liberty with hem of white lace. The tucked front is of pink gauze ornamented with knots of pink liberty ribbon. The skirt and neck band are of pink liberty.

THIS WEEK all housewives can have snowy white flaky bread, as sweet and wholesome as the ideal bread should be. It will be a "Matchless" loaf if you will use

Novel Egg-Cosy

A NOVEL egg-cosy for keeping warm half-a-dozen eggs is the subject of the accompanying sketch, and for which a small wicker basket capable of holding that number of eggs must be obtained.

Wicker baskets suitable for this purpose may be purchased in many shops at the cost of a few pence, and it should be slightly padded with cotton wool and then loosely lined with silk or satin.

For making the cover, a square piece of cardboard should be cut out a little larger in size than the top of the basket, and it should be covered on both sides with cloth, the inner side being padded with a thin layer of cotton wool. Round the edge is sewn a frill made of a double thickness of cloth and gathered properly at the top.

The handle, by which the cover may be lifted, is made of twisted ribbon stiffened with wire, and a smart little bow on either side finishes off the cosy.

The left-hand sketch shows the cosy placed over the basket containing the eggs, and the right hand sketch illustrates the basket filled with eggs, and shows the kind of frill the basket that should be obtained.

The colors of the cloth and ribbon should be chosen to match or harmonize with the color of the breakfast service with which they are to appear.

IGNORANCE NO PLEA.

"The plea of ignorance will never take away our responsibility," said Roskin, and most people have found this to be so. The plea of ignorance, with as much dignity as possible and never suffices for a sufficient excuse in extenuation of any mistake.

In this world it is our business to know. Either we must find our knowledge by patient industry or through the interpretation of others. The former way of arriving at knowledge is the only satisfactory and successful one yet found. The other at best is but a makeshift.

We are given certain responsibilities. We are expected to carry them. We are expected to carry them. We are expected to carry them.

OFFICIALS' DUTY TOWARD THE CITY

WAS TREATED IN SERMON BY REV. T. D. WILLIAMS AT METHODIST CHURCH LAST EVENING.

MANY THINGS CAN BE DONE

On the Part of the Office-holders to Secure a Better and Cleaner Janesville.

"What Can City Officials Do to Reform the City?" was the subject of a strong sermon, Rev. T. D. Williams at the Methodist church last evening. In a series of sermons previous, Rev. Williams has set forth some of the evils existing here, and last night's address presented at least one way in which the matter can be solved. He said in substance:

"We have been considering the various problems attendant upon our city, and it is our purpose tonight to put part of the burden on the city officials. City problems have claimed the patience of the shareholders of men and I do not claim to be able to settle these problems for I have no power for all this.

"It is true, however, that the gospel will settle some of the difficulties if it is applied as a rule of our daily life. If it were fearlessly used in fighting the sin and evil of our city there is no doubt but that much good would result.

"The settling of our municipal problems is a gigantic job. Every year the number of people who flock to our cities increases, thus multiplying the problems which have to be solved. The number of cities in the nation of over 8,000 inhabitants has increased from eight in the year 1800 to nearly five hundred at the present time. The population of our cities has doubled in twenty years.

"Not only has the size of our cities increased but the various classes and nationalities which are to be found in them, materially augment the problems to be solved. In the city of Boston in 1887, 63 per cent of the people were of foreign birth or parentage, and in the same year 67 per cent of the population of the state of Massachusetts was of foreign birth or parentage.

"The native American or Yankee is endowed with the characteristic to get there and get there first and he has applied it to every business enterprise in the country. If such is the case why is he not competent to solve all problems of city government?

"What are some of the problems which are presented? One of them is the problem of wealth, which brings with it the problem of luxury, and the problem of appetite, extravagant expenditure which ends in selfishness. The conditions resulting from the rich man on the one hand and the poor man on the other have been pondered over by statesmen, scholars, political economists and preachers through the centuries.

"The problem of poverty comes along with that of wealth. In London it is estimated that one out of four of the persons who die, died a pauper's death; and one out of every ten who die in New York City are buried in the pauper's field, it is estimated. And in the same city more than one hundred die of starvation every year.

"Congestion of population is another problem which is of vital importance. There are places in the large cities where a great many persons are crowded into one room or one house with the resulting dangers to health. In the city of Milwaukee there are at the present time 200,000 men unemployed.

"Sabbath desecration is another problem and in many places it is difficult to determine where one week ends and the next begins. Divorces and the saloon evil are largely confined to the city and are things which demand immediate attention.

"Now the question comes, what can be done by the city officials? The first thing is to start a crusade to clean up the city; our back yards and alleys need to be kept clean. It is claimed by factory owners who insist on having attractive grounds and surroundings that the quality of the labor they employ is improved and the same would be the case on a larger scale in the case of the entire city. It is the place of the city officials to lead in this matter and not only that, but they should pass an ordinance requiring the tenement owners to keep their buildings up to a certain standard, and to prevent tumbledown hovels to accumulate in the center of the city. Not only do these places furnish places for disease to breed, but they draw an undesirable class of people to live in them. Police officials will vouch for the truth of the statement that there is crime and vice and vice to be found in such places, and where things are kept clean and in shape.

"The matter of light is also important and as a means of decreasing crime it is unexcelled. Where streets are well lighted there is less crime by far than in the dark alleys where lurk the thug and robber.

"It is imperative that the city officials enforce the law and that they dispense justice with mercy yet firmness and dispatch. Some of the trials in our courts are a farce and we need only to compare some of our trials with those in England to see the difference. Our officials should not be afraid to stand alone, if necessary, for truth and purity, even if all the rest are on the side of corruption.

"Our officials should keep their eyes off the next election and should go into office to do their duty regardless of whether it will mean reelection for them or not. The possibility of reelection is one of the curses of our American system, for the office holder is hard to kill and candidates are often prone to do what will help them in the following election.

"Co-operation of the church and city officials in accomplishing the work of the municipality will help lift and keep the city at the high water mark of influence and power."

CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY OF HIS BIRTH YESTERDAY

Bartholomew Spencer, 1502 Pleasant street, celebrated his eightieth birthday yesterday. Mr. Spencer was born March 19, 1831, in New York state, England. At the age of fifty years he came to this country, settling in Dane county, in this state. After two years in this place he came to this city, where he has resided ever since. He is a gardener by trade and is a devoted member of the Trinity church.

He was left a widower a few years ago. Two children are living, John of Chicago and Mrs. F. Green. There are also five grandchildren.

WAGON MAKERS BOW BEFORE CARDINALS

Stoughton Five Prove Easy for Lakotas at the West Side Rink Saturday Night.

The Lakota Cardinals added another victory to their long list Saturday night by defeating the Mandi Wagon at the West Side rink in a rather one-sided contest at the West Side rink by a score of 30 to 17. The Wagon-makers started out in a manner that looked bad for the locals, but it was not long before the Cardinals team had pulled out of danger and after that there was no cause for worry among the home rosters.

The game was snappy at the start, both teams showing excellent organization. Sennett of the Lakotas was the first to break the ice with a basket and from that time on it was a case of keeping just a little ahead of the Stoughton people to the finish. At the end of the first half the score stood 15 to 7, with the locals on the long side.

Things went from bad to worse for the visitors in the second half and they were completely played off their feet. Had it not been that they were exceptionally poor on baskets the score might have at least been close, but they seemed either to throw in very poor luck or else lack the ability. In this half the Cardinals scored 15 to their opponents' 10.

The lineups follow: Janesville: Cunningham, cf; Murphy, lf; Sennett, c; Green, ss; Deora, jr; Wilkerson, sub.

Stoughton: Corcoran, cf; Conlin, lf; Dunn and Skilling, c; Curtis, ss; O'Connell, ss; Skilling, sub.

Referee: Janesville, Cunningham (5), Murphy (2), Sennett (7). Fouls: Murphy (2).

Referee: Stoughton, Corcoran (2), Conlin (1), Curtis (1), O'Connell (3), Skilling (1). Fouls: Corcoran (1). Referee: Carlo, Umpire: Dineen. Scorekeeper: Koch. Timekeeper: Wilkerson.

SOLVED PROBLEM OF CONGESTION

An Extra Fourth Grade Has Been Instituted in Monroe Schools.

Other Monroe News. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Monroe, March 20.—The problem of the congestion in the third and fourth grades has been solved to a degree by the instituting of an extra fourth grade, to be located in one of the larger recitation rooms of the high school. The teachers have had so many pupils in their rooms that it was impossible to give the pupils adequate instruction and a few frequent fourth grade will be enrolled in the extra grade.

Miss Ellen Garandine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Garandine, who is a graduate of both the Monroe high school and the university of Wisconsin, has been elected to take charge of the room.

Court Calendar. The calendar for the March term of the Green county circuit court, which convenes here March 27, has a total of eleven jury cases and two bench cases of fact for the court.

Carl Sterchi, who came from Interlaken, Switzerland, three years ago, located in Milwaukee, died in the Lathrop hospital here of diabetes. The young man was about 25 years of age and was employed for a short time last summer on the farm of Frank Kessler, near Juda. His parents have been called to Interlaken and in case they do not claim the body it will be sent to the university at Madison.

Post Season Game. The Cardinals have secured a post-season game of basketball with the Redford high school, sentiment in favor of having that team come here having been expressed strongly by basket ball fans here. Roy Callahan and Frank Bowen, old time Cardinals, are on the Redford team.

Personal. Roy Dodge and Ned Dodge were in Precinct Saturday evening. The latter entered the Globe hospital for medical treatment.

Scott Darling expects to leave the latter part of this week for Long Beach, Cal., where he will locate. The family will go later.

Jaron Healey of Carroll, Ia., is here on a visit to his brother, Henry Healey.

PAINTING EXHIBIT CAME TO A CLOSE

Display of Illinois Pictures at Congregational Church Closed With Meeting of Art League.

After having been viewed by many Janesville people, the exhibition of paintings by Illinois artists under the auspices of the Art League, in the Congregational church, came to a close Saturday night. The features of the last afternoon were the visit of the school children and the meeting of the league at which time a paper was read on "Art in Life" by Mrs. Herman J. Hall, curator of the New Gallery, Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. The league, at their meeting, also voted to buy one of the pictures by Charles W. Dahlgreen.

Mrs. Hall's talk was very interesting and was much enjoyed by those present. She said that the art of Illinois had always played a prominent part in the history of this country. In music, architecture and other of the fine arts she has no equal. Back as far as 1800, records show that there was interest in this line and that there was an exhibition held in Heiler's gallery. From this time on the love of art has spread there until now it would be impossible to trace all of the branches.

She paid a very glowing tribute to the work of Lorado Taft, the sculptor, telling of the work that he has done in Chicago and of his loyalty to Illinois. The paper closed with an interpretation of the aim of the sculptor written by Mr. Taft.

Childhood's Unfailing Joy. As long as there are children in the world the golden and priceless occupation of make-believe will go on; the pursuit of delight itself, untrammelled by rules or purpose.—Eton College Chronicle.

Always End to Sorrow. A young man cannot be cast down by grief and misfortune over so severe but some night he begins to sleep sound, and some day when dinner time comes to feel hungry for a beef-steak.—Thackeray.

Confirmation Service at Evansville Church. Clahop Webb and Archdeacon William Concluded Service Last Friday.—Evansville Items.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Evansville, March 20.—Bishop W. W. Webb, bishop of the Milwaukee diocese of the Episcopal church, and Archdeacon William of Janesville were here Friday evening to conduct confirmation services in St. John's church. Bishop Webb gave a masterly sermon. Miss Helen Colony was the only one confirmed, other members of the class being unable to be present on account of illness.

St. Patrick's Party. Mrs. Daniel Knause and Mrs. Ralph Smith entertained a number of friends at a St. Patrick's party Friday evening at the former's home. The rooms were prettily decorated in a color scheme of green in honor of the occasion and red carnations were also used. Those present were: Messrs. James John Christian, Warren Cain, Elmer Luby, Frank West, George Butcher, Fred Gilman, Robert Anten, Ernest Clifford, Charles Jarman, Fred Allen, C. C. Broughton and Ray Gilman.

MAKING OLD CARS READY FOR SERVICE

Local Auto Repair Shops Prepare for Big Season This Year.

The repair departments of the different automobile garages about the city are not particularly busy at this time of the year although there are the usual number of owners who are anxious to get their last year's cars in shape for the coming season. The nice weather of the week previous and of a few days of this week caused an influx of orders for repairs into the local garages, but it is hardly anything to compare with the demand when the machines get into action and have made the trips into the country and throughout that are liable to interfere with the perfect working order of any automobile.

During the summer months the local garages do somewhat of a local office business in the way of repairs. Janesville usually proves an objective point for all tourists bound within a distance of almost a hundred miles of here, as the highways and drives of the city are well known. It is not at all unusual to find hand-books and other pamphlets all about it.

The season of 1911 will eclipse all others, according to local dealers, as the interest in this form of locomotion is on the increase to such an extent that every one anywhere near in a position to purchase a car is doing so. The coming season promises to be the most successful in auto history.

As far as can be learned the Rockford Interurban company officials do not know anything definite about the proposed plans, and have only learned of the proposed use of their tracks through the newspaper accounts of the proposed road. If the road comes through Janesville it would probably run through Milton, Pt. Atkinson, Jefferson and to Watertown and there cannot with the Regis system into Milwaukee.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

To the Editor: Will the editor kindly inform me how a father, he is ever so close to his boy's heart, is going to prevent him from being caught in the trap, the lure and glare of the saloon has set for him?

And suppose there is another boy who has no father? Who is going to protect him from this evil of the open door saloon? The mother, who per chance must tell all day to provide for the boy, and others too, perhaps, trying with all her might to educate him and make him a respectable and law-abiding citizen?

Do you think it is asking too much to ask those men, who profess before God to be their brother's keeper, to help this father or mother in their work of protection?

Is there any reason why the gates of hell should be opened to our boys because a father's influence does not come up to the editor's standpoint?

Are we not put here on this earth to help our more unfortunate brother, not put stumbling blocks in his way? Let me cite you a case of a boy robbed in his infancy of a father's loving care and protection. This boy was reared and loved and cared for in a home where liquor was looked upon and abhorred as a demon of the most horrible type. At the age of ten he stood alone in a class of fifty for an license and prohibition. As he grew older the influence of his playmates, sons of respectable citizens, combined with that of the licensed saloon, proved too great a temptation and at the age of fifteen he fell. It was then I brought him to my country home to get him away from the city's temptation. But it was too late—the saloon had done its work.

One morning last spring he started out in all his gay young manhood to visit his mother and sisters. He had to go through Janesville to reach his destination. The saloon door was open, the music fascinating, the pictures alluring. A gay crowd invited him in. Say, Mr. Editor, suppose you had a very genial disposition, always ready to please and easily coaxed; would not you have yielded, too?

Yes, the officers found him and obeyed the law to the letter; locked him up till he was himself, then imposed a heavy fine and turned him over to the saloon again.

In my opinion they ought to have tenderly cared for him until he was sober, replaced the money in his pocket, had beer and then taken him home, reminding the same protection as long as the law says it to give the saloonkeeper the privilege of intoxicating, not men, but boys.

We cannot always keep our boys; we must let them go sometime, but how much differently would we feel about it if there were no licensed saloons to lure them in? Or if there must be this temptation let there be as many Christian officers standing ready to protect the boys as there are those ready to pick them up after their downfall and throw them in some dark cell until they are sober again.

O, gentlemen who either by your influence or your vote, help to keep these hell holes on this fair earth, will have a terrible thing to answer for on the great judgment day, for has not our Master and Maker of this world said: "Voe unto the world because of offences; for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh."

JANESVILLE AGAIN ON "PAPER ROUTE" OF ELECTRIC LINE

Another Proposed Railroad From St. Louis To Milwaukee Plans To Utilize Rockford Interurban Tracks.

Another electric railroad has been constructed on paper this time from St. Louis to Milwaukee via the Rockford Interurban, from Rockford to Janesville. It is to be known as the Milwaukee, Peoria and St. Louis railway and has received its articles of incorporation from the secretary of the state of Illinois.

The company is part of a corporation formed in St. Louis to construct an electric railroad from Milwaukee to St. Louis by way of Rockford and Peoria. The incorporators are all Chicago men and are Eugene C. Morton, Frank H. Reed, Frank S. V. Vehmeyer, John H. O'Sell and Frank H. Gardner.

It is proposed to construct the new road from Peoria through the counties of Tazewell, Woodford, Marshall, Putnam, Bureau, Lee, Ogle and Winnebago to the city of Rockford. If this is done in all probability the lines of the Rockford and Interurban would be used from Rockford to Janesville or at least as far as Beloit, it is thought the road might be continued from the terminus of the Rockford and Interurban at Janesville to Milwaukee or it might run from Beloit through Clinton, Belvaux and so on to the Cream City.

As far as can be learned the Rockford Interurban company officials do not know anything definite about the proposed plans, and have only learned of the proposed use of their tracks through the newspaper accounts of the proposed road. If the road comes through Janesville it would probably run through Milton, Pt. Atkinson, Jefferson and to Watertown and there cannot with the Regis system into Milwaukee.

BAKER'S DRUG STORE

Full SALE—ROUND LAKE COUNTRY. 4-31

Full SALE—Own a farm in the heart of Wisconsin's rich stock and dairy region where you have the benefits of nearly markets, railroad facilities, telephone and mail service, with good roads, schools, churches and good neighbors. It is a country of abundant rainfall and the purest of water. There is some timber to be cleared away, but much of it is valuable hardwood, which can be turned into money at the nearby sawmills. The timber can thus be made to pay for the land and provide lumber for the farm building and fences. The AMERICAN IMMIGRATION COMPANY of Chilwaukee Falls, Wisconsin, owns thousands of acres of these choice lands and are offering remarkable inducements to settlers and investors. The prices range according to the kind of soil, quality of timber and nearness to railroads from $5.00 to $20.00 per acre and ten years to pay. Free books, maps and further particulars may be secured from the local representative and attorney of the American Immigration Company. 4-31

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, March 20, 1871.

Election of Postmaster.

Mr. Hazleton has decided to submit the choice of a postmaster for this city to the republicans to be decided by vote. In view of the claims set forth by the various applicants he feels that this is the most satisfactory manner of gaining an expression of the sense of the community in regard to the next incumbent of the position. The election will be held on Monday, the 27th inst., and it is earnestly hoped that the full republican vote may be obtained. Republican residents in the country, who obtain their mail at this office, will be permitted to vote.

Brief terms.

A thunder storm disturbed the slumbers of Janesvillians, last night. From thirteen to fifteen dollars a month is paid to farm laborers in this county.

Hon. C. G. Williams lectures at the Court street M. E. church on Wednesday evening of this week.

Today is the most disagreeable one of the month. A cold, raw wind is blowing which is decidedly Marchy.

Trapping pigeons is a profitable vocation to many of our farmers.

Four days and nights have passed without a burglary.

The darkness which hangs over our streets these stormy muddy nights, teaches us to appreciate how pleasant a thing a gas flud is.

The burning out of a chimney on North Main street this morning attracted a crowd, but did not cause an alarm of fire.

Consolation vs. Art.

Thomas Nelson Page in the smoking room of the Baltic contrasted the literary and the scientific temperaments.

"But a letter will last bring out my point," said the famous author. "You've heard, of course, of Tennyson's poem, 'The Vision of Sin.' Well, an eminent mathematician wrote to Tennyson, on the appearance of his poem, a letter that ran like this:

"Dear Sir—I find in a recent poem of yours entitled 'The Vision of Sin,' the following unwarranted statement: 'Every moment dies a man, and every moment one is born.' I need hardly point out that this calculation, if correct, would tend to keep the sum total of the world's population in a state of perpetual equilibrium, whereas, it is an established fact that the said population is constantly on the increase. I would therefore suggest that in the next edition of this poem the erroneous calculation to which I refer should be corrected as follows: 'Every moment dies a man, and one and a sixteenth is born.' I may add that the exact figures are 2167, but something must, of course, be conceded to the laws of rhythm."

On the Girl's Day Off.

"If my name did not sound like a page of Irish history I would be pretty sure to get that C. O. D. package to-morrow afternoon," said the pretty girl. "But since it does sound that way I shall very likely not get it before Friday morning. That is because to-morrow is Thursday and most storekeepers feel rather dubious about delivering C. O. D. packages to anybody with a down stairs name on Thursday afternoon. The down stairs name is pretty apt to belong to a down stairs girl. It is her day of social activity, and what her employer will do with the C. O. D. bundle is a problem. Some receive it, others send it back to the store for next day's delivery, but even those who pay they still and take the package in do it with poor grace and afterward take out their revenge on the store's well as on the girl. Delivery wagons have had to make so many extra trips on account of Thursday afternoon holidays that many storekeepers now hold suspicious packages over until Friday."

German/Naval Custom.

On two or three occasions recently a long bonneted naval custom which had long fallen out of fashion was revived by the German navy. This was when it was used on the retirement of a commander from his command to be rowed ashore by a crew of officers from his ship or the fleet of which he was giving up the command.

Two recent recipients of the compliment were Prince Henry and Herr von Koester, both Grand Admirals of the fleet. This same honor was shown to Capt. Loran of the Schlesien a few days ago when the crew paraded the band played and the ship's officers in full uniform rowed their departing commander to the shore.

Turkish Medicines.

The educational text for pharmacists in Turkey is not on drugs, chemicals, etc. It is on arithmetic, the Turkish and French languages and general mathematics. Still, most Turks go to the native dry goods or grocery store for their favorite remedies—oil, tallow, candle, plaster, linseed, poultices and stuff for emmonile teas, etc.

His Trade Mark.

"I wish you didn't have such a flat and phlegmatic young papa," said the aristocratic young daughter of the plain old merchant. "That's the mark of the gripshaws, my dear," replied the phlegmatic old man.

The Query Box.

Dear Sir—When a man slips does he slip up or down?—Victim. It depends altogether where he lands. If he finishes on the ground he slips down. But if his momentum carries him to the roof of a second-story building, then he slips up. (No charge)

Singer and Orator.

"If I had my way," Dr. Macnamara once confessed to an interviewer, "I should be singing in 'Carmen' instead of making speeches from the treasury bench. But, unfortunately, the British public thinks a great deal more of a man who can make a bad speech than a man who can sing a good song."—Westminster Gazette.

Curiosity on the Farm.

A little girl of the electric lighted places went to her grandfather's farm to spend the summer. She saw an unfamiliar animal on one of her strolls and ran to the house very much frightened. "I don't know if it was a snake or an owl," she said, "but it turned crooked and split fire, and I guess it was a griffin."

Will They Be Pardoned?—AT LEFT, CHARLES W. MORSE. AT RIGHT, JOHN R. WALSH.

Washington, D. C.—As soon as President Call returns to the White house from his southern trip he will take up the pardoning of the two ex-bankers now imprisoned for misappropriation of funds.

While friends of both Mr. Morse and Mr. Walsh stated that they have positive assurance that the pardons have been issued, it was rumored that the attorney general had merely recommended clemency and suggested the commutation of Mr. Morse's sentence to five years instead of fifteen.

The action, it is said, was taken largely as the result of the untiring efforts of Mrs. Morse in her husband's behalf, which she has never abandoned for a moment since his imprisonment on January 3, 1910.

Mr. Walsh's age and the state of his health are said to have been the principal factors in winning the pardon in his case. He is now 74 years

Baby's Health.

If the mother who can possibly afford it will have her baby observed during its first few months by a good nurse or physician, the mother will be saved much anxiety and the baby stands a better chance of health. This does not mean to be a crank on health. It does mean advise your doctor of every appearance of pain or distress; then heed his advice.

ENDS MISERY FROM INDIGESTION

OR A SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACH

A little Diapensin makes your out-of-stomach, no heartburn, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach or belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with noxious odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapensin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapensin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapensin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the home of governors. The Louisville Courier-Journal says Kentucky has furnished to other states 105 governors.

Value of Biblical Shekel. The Biblical shekel of silver was worth about 50 cents on present day values. A shekel of gold represented about $10, a talent of silver was equivalent to $2,000, a talent of gold was nearly $20,000, a piece of silver, or a penny, was about eight and a half pence, a farthing was equal to one cent, a mite was still less than a farthing, and a gerah was three cents.

A Good Man. He was a good man, my father was, and his usual form of address to me was "my son," these go, undarned, and I don't know but it's helped me all my life. It sort of challenges a boy to be called "my son" by a good man, to be called "my son" by a good man, to be called "my son" by a good man.

Small Expenses. Never throw up another person's small expenses as an example that you are ever so careful yourself. You don't smoke cigars as your fiancée does, but your unconsidered trifles come to far more money week by week than his tobacco. If you wish to query expenses put down every penny you spend on small items, get your fiancée or husband to do the same, and you may find yourself on the wrong side of the ledger.

Great Point of Difference. At the trial of the rebels held at Carlisle, England, after the 1715 rebellion, one witness was, although a Scotsman, examined under the English form of adjuration. He gave an account so palpably wide of the truth that the prosecuting counsel had him sworn after the form of his own country. He then gave evidence of a very different stamp. On being asked how he came to utter so many falsehoods when first sworn, he replied: "Sworn! There's an unco' difference 'tween blowing on a heuk an' seinin' one's soul to hell!"

Find Father. Father's gave up billiards Since he lamed his wrist. Sister's gave up dancing. Mother's gave up what.
